GLENWOOD SPRINGS: THE STREAM

Gordon Dunlop has been pastoring in Glenwood now for over a year. They have moved from the old church building into a new school there on the main street in Glenwood...

It's not only an excellent location, but it is an absolutely beautiful location for the church. Fabulous visibility on Grand street and as you look outside the windows from inside the building there is a marvelous view of the mountains.

We need a thriving church in the Glenwood area because there are several municipalities to the west and the south that desperately need churches... To the west is West Glenwood, New Castle, Silt, Rifle & Parachute, and to the south is Carbondale, and Basalt, Snowmass & Aspen... Glenwood is the hub. Pray that God will give us a thriving and dynamic church in the hub that can plant churches all down through those valleys.

Easter:

Make it happen, don't just let it happen on April 4th!

Easter is the best time of the year for our churches to reach out and touch! Christian pollsters have found that there is a 72% greater likelihood that people will respond favorably to an invitation to attend an Easter service than any other time in the year!

Reasons appear to be varied why response is so high;

1. Typically it's a friend or family member who extends the invite and the person feels obligated to go to the service because they are going to a dinner with the family after the service.
2. They believe there will be something at church worthwhile to go to... i.e., music or drama or a quality service
3. There is still a bit of memory in the culture as to obligation to attend something religious on Easter Sunday.
4. The nature of the invitation capitalizes on the principles that already work... the principle of friends or relatives i.e., 70+ percent of people have a receptivity to friends or relatives.

The choice is "be passive or Aggressive" Churches that work to make Easter a great success tend to get a positive outcome!
